History
365

I am indebted to the following persons in the production of the "Tunnicliff Genealogy," first to my late husband, Nelson H. Tunnicliff, who collected much of the family data; second to Albert Livingston Marshall, who assisted me throughout the work of preparation. He is a direct descendant of the Herkimer family, being a third great nephew of General Nicholas Herkimer. He an an Engineer of Albany, New York and is the instigator of the International Bridge at Collins Landing, New York. He is an hereditary member of the Order of the Cincinnati. His burial plot is in the New York State owned Herkimer Museum grounds where rests the remains of the Revolutionary General, Nicholas Herkimer; third, much thanks is due to Mr. George F. Blount, author of the "Blount Genealogy," and who resides at Royal Oak, Michigan.

Tunnicliff and Allied Families

by Zoe (Hood) Tunnicliff

Ralph Tunnicliffe, living at Mapleton, Parish of Ashbourne, Co. of Derby, made his will 17 May 1724 which was probated 23 June 1725. Bequests were given to children named John, Wlliam, Ralph, Rowland, Joseph, to Mary, wife of son George and a sister Dorothy as well as several grandchildren.

George Tunnicliff, son of the above named Ralph, was of Ireton Wood, Co. Derby when he made his will in 1761. He had a sister Isabell, who married John White, mentioned in will of Ralph Tunnicliff, who leaves bequests to two of her children. George leaves bequests to his two children, Hannah, who married John Wilcockson, 8 January 1755, and to his son John who received the bulk of his property. John was born 1725, so was not mentioned in the will of his grandfather, Ralph. John Tunnicliff came to America in 1755 and was the immigrant ancester of the New York family of Tunnicliffs. Mary Tunnicliff, widow of George, offered her husband's will for probate April 19, 1763 at Coventry. She was buried from St. Werburgh's church in the City of Derby, Feb. 10, 1769, as stated in a letter from the Rector of that church.

John Tunnicliff, son of the above George Tunnicliff and his wife, Mary, was born 1725 in Derbyshire, Eng., died January 13, 1800 and is buried in the family burial ground "Round Garden," on his estate of "Oak Lodge." He was twice married: first to Elizabeth Tunnicliff of Mapleton, 24 December 1747, at Church Broughton, (Vol. I, p. 95 Parish Registers of Derbyshire); second to Mary Woodhouse b. 1730 in Eng., died August 29, 1802 at "Oak Lodge" and is buried in the family plot. There were two sons by the first marriage and two sons and two daughters by the second marriage.

The two sons by John Sr.'s first marriage were George and John, Jr. George, b. 1748, died before 1800 according to will of John Sr. He married Mary Chatfield Sept. 25, 1769 and had two sons, Philip and George. The other son by John Sr.'s first marriage was John, Jr. who came to America and was married twice. First marriage of John Jr. was to an English lady whose name I do not know. He had one daughter who did not come to America till 1814 after John's death. She had married ------ Kellogg, who died. John Jr.'s second marriage was to Hannah Hudson, b. March 18, 1756. She married John Jr. July 15, 1776 and died Dec. 3, 1843. There were 14 children by this marriage. Ephraim Hudson was born in 1713 in England, brought his family to America in 1772, coming on the same ship that brought John Tunnicliff, Jr. His Revolutionary War record is given in "New York in the Revolution as Colony and State," p. 101, "Albany County Militia, Third Regt." In the same book is given, p. 115, "Albany County Militia" 8th Regt. "John Tunnicliff and William Tunnicliff." These men were sons of John Tunnicliff, Sr., half brothers.

John Tunnicliff Sr.'s children by his second marriage to Mary Woodhouse, were (William, Joseph (Major), Mary and an infant of Mr. Tunnicliff's who died May 1770, as given in volume II, Church Records of St. Peter's, Albany, a girl.

George Tunnicliff, b. 1748, d. before 1800, son of John Tunnicliff, Sr. (1725-1800) and his first wife, married Mary Chatfield, Sept. 25, 1769. They had two sons, Philip bapt. July 2, 1770, and George bapt. Aug. 20, 1773. Mary died and was buried from St. Werburgh's church Dec. 31, 1791 in City of Derby, Eng.

Philip, bap. July 2, 1770. mar. Mary Anabel Nov. 1, 1790. His second marriage was to Sarah Skinner, Jan. 31, 1811. He had by second marriage, Philip, b. 1812 who married Ann Pickford. They were grandparents of Beatrice Tunnicliff, with whom correspondence was kept up for about 10 years.

George, bapt. Aug. 20, 1773, married first Mary Bonsall March 4, 1792 and second Sarah Woolly, June 31, 1797. George was father of William (not known by which wife). This William married and had a son, William b. 1806, who married twice. One wife was Mary Ann. They had Thomas, b. Oct. 17, 1839, who married Ellen Hough. They had four daughters and one son, Joseph Tunnecliff, who married Esther Simpson. Joseph and Esther had Nora, Dora, Lillian and Harold. Nora married Bruce and had a daughter she name Zoe for her American cousin. Joseph and I corresponded for over 28 years. Harold, son of Joseph, married Julia Murray and had two girls and one boy, Bernard. This line of the family spelled the name 'Tunnecliff.'

Other children of William Tunnicliff (b. 1806) were Ellen, who married Sam Ferner, lived in Derby, Joseph who made artificial limbs during Crimean War, married Agnes, Harriet, who married John Jerram, Hot Water Engineer of Babington Lane, Derby, Philip and John, who was a bootmaker, of Nottingham Rd., Derby.

John Henry Tunnecliffe married Sarah Thompson and had five children. This family went to Australia in the 60's. One son, Henry, had three boys. The other son, Thomas Tunnecliffe, b. July 13, 1870, d. Feb. 2, 1948, M.P. from Melbourne, Austraial, for a time in 1928 — 32 he was acting Premier of Australia. He had a daughter, Mary, who married Nils Lied, an Antarctic explorer and writer. They have one child, Kari Lied. Thomas Tunnecliffe had one son Thomas. Thomas Sr. is included in "Who's Who in Australia" by Chisholm. He was leader of the Labor Party in Australia for over 30 years. He was given a State Funeral.

II. John Tunnicliff, Jr., b. Nov. 16, 1750 in England, died July 14, 1814 at Warren, Herkimer Co., N.Y. buried on family burial plot on his farm. A State marker is on Route 20 at Warren, in his memory, erected by the State of New York. Another State marker is erected in Albany, stating his occupation as Clockmaker and Supt. of Town Clocks. He had a jewelry store and his residence were at No. 14 and 16 State Street, Albany. He lived there 10 years and was Church Warden and Vestryman for St. Peter's Episcopal Church, State Street. He had been give 1000 acres of land by his father at Warren (see will of A. John Tunnicliff, Sr.) which he leased for 10 years to Nicholas Lowe. In 1793 he moved to this farm and lived there till his death. (Bailey's "History of Richfield Springs," "Annals of Richfield" by Henry A. Ward, Deeds, Bible of Marinda (Tilden) Tunnicliff and many personal letters.

An ad in the "Albany Gazette" dated Dec. 28, 1789. "JOHN TUNNICLIFF, Clock and Watch Maker, takes the liberty to inform the public that he continues business at No. 16 State Street, Albany, where his old customers and the public in general may have any work in either of the above named branches done on the most satisfactory terms and warranged for ten months at least. In payment any kind of country produce or money will be received."

In the Jewelry Store at No. 16 State Street, Albany, was engraved by John Tunnicliff, Jr., the beautiful powder-horn mentioned by Bailey, p. 14 with the pre-Revolutionary map of Philadelphia and the Schoolkill River with the location of the home of John Tunnicliff, Sr., who had first settled there before coming to the State of New York. The date of this first American home of John Sr. is August 30, 1764. Throughout all of the Tunnicliff families I have ever contacted runs the legend of the shooting of the deer by John Sr. and his consequent troubles as given p. 12 in Bailey. It may be a legend but in support of this story there is shown on the powder-horn a picture of a man in the act of shooting a deer.

The story of the copper camp kettle is given by Bailey p. 26. "At the time of the surrender of General Burgoyne to General Gates, at Saratoga, in 1777, all the camp-furniture, together with the immense quantities of military stores of the British, fell into the hands of the victorious Americans. After the close of the war, many of these articles were sold, and John Tunnicliff, Jr., purchased a large copper camp-kettle, which is now in the possession of Mr. Horatio Tunnicliff, who owns and occupies the estate of his grandfather near Little Lakes." The book was published in 1874 and since that date the kettle has passed to George, the son of Horatio, then to George's brother Nelson H. Tunnicliff, and from his hands to his wife, Zoe (Hood) Tunnicliff.

"History of Otsego County, N.Y." 1878, published by Everts & Fariss, of Philadelphia, p. 98, Chap. LXVI, Town of Richfield. Gives a great deal about the Tunnicliffs, taken from Bailey's History of Richfieldfield Springs and Vicinity." There is a footnote about the powderhorn, p. 299, gives the name of John Tunnicliff of Philadelphia, Aug. 30, 1764. P. 300 continues with Tunnicliff history and has the mistake about John Sr. being a loyalist, but he had taken the Oath of Neutrality March 28, 1778. P. 300 gives Mary Tunnicliff (dau. of John Sr.) marrying Dr. Jones of Brockville, Canada. Gives history of John Jr. buying the Burgoyne copper camp-kettle. Shows Richfield Springs Seminary.

B., 107 Field Signal Battalion, 32nd Division of Minnesota. She graduated from Minnesota State University, 1920. She had an education in music and while traveling in Europe, during her stay in Rome, was called upon to render in the Pantheon, a pipe organ selection, "Praise Ye the Father." Leone and her family had lived many years in Minneapolis, where Leone was a teacher in the Public Schools. On her retirement they decided to move to Tucson, Arizona, on account of Ollie's health as he had been suffering from ill health he had contracted while in the war. They had just built a home there which cost $20,000. and moved into it on the 15th of May, 1961. On the 27th of May, Ollie complained of feeling bad and his son, Douglas, took him up in his arms to take care of him but he died and although he was taken to hospital there was no chance of recovery. Leone listed the new home for sale and started back to Minneapolis with her son in their car while Ollie was shipped back by train. He was buried at Fort Snelling Cemetery Mary 4, 1961.

She was the first girl to be granted a credit in Manual Training in Wood Work in the University of Wisconsin and had won honors in Manual Training in Minnesota State Normal College. Other Institutions of a Collegiate nature were the Sorbonne, in Paris, San Mateo Junior College in California, State Teachers College of N. Y. at Albany, N.Y. and Oneonta Teachers College, Institute Du Pontheon, Paris, Academic Julienne Art Institute, Sorority member of La Maison Francaise, University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wis. While living in Paris in 1927 she taught French in the American High School. While living in St. Paul, Minn., she taught History and French in High School. She also taught the last nine years before retirement in the Public Schools in the city of Albany, N. Y.

She was elected to the National Society of the Magna Charta Dames in 1946. See "Magna Charta" part V, by John S. Wurts, p. 1073, et al. On the death of her husband, Feb. 3, 1938, Mrs. Tunnicliff served as Administratrix and Executrix in the settlement of their joint estate which was controlled by the Community Property Law of the State of California but Ancillary proceedings were held in Herkimer County, New York.

While living in Albany, Mrs. Tunnicliff built eight houses under the Federal Housing Control. She obtained three N. Y.

State Historical Markers for the Tunnicliff family and another Historical Marker was obtained in the State of South Dakota in memory of her Uncle, Albert Tunnicliff, brother of Jane Tunnicliff, in memory of his death with eleven other men, by fire and where they were buried at Deadwood, S. Dak. Also a Federal Grave marker was obtained from the War Department in Washington to commemorate Military service during the Civil War. "Albert Tunnicliff, Wisconsin, P.V.T. Co. 11 Regt. Wis. HV Arty, Civil War. Oct. 28, 1848 March 10, 1883." The other Marker, erected on S. Dak. State Highway 385, is to preserve the memory of all twelve unfortunate men who perished in the town of Brownsville, S. Dak. 10 March 1883, including that of Albert Tunnicliff, Uncle of Zoe Hood Tunnicliff with the caption, "Erected 1959 by Mrs. Nelson H. Tunnicliff."

Work was done by Zoe Tunnicliff while attending the New York State University of Teachers in Albany for a Class Thesis under the supervision of the Governor's assistant, Mr. Meaghar, to collect all types of data concerning the passage of a Social Security measure to include Teachers in the State of New York. The work required six months of research and was considered of extensive value in consumating the passage of the bill. It was commended by Dr. Hugh Flick, Assistant Superintendent of Education, for the State of New York. The bill went into effect in 1957.

Another Bill which Zoe Tunnicliff was of assistance in developing was the Tide-Lands Oil Bill on 1956 which also required six months of work under Senator Hugh Butler.

In addition to compiling the data for the "Tunnicliff Genealogy," Mrs. Tunnicliff has also collected considerable data on other family ancestry, as that of Mamie Dowd Eisenhower, Governor Thomas E. Dewey, Governor Harriman, Mayor Erastus Corning and for George F. Blount, author and compiler of the "Blount Genealogy."

Mrs. Tunnicliff was a member of the Penwomen's Club of St. Petersburg, Florida 1934.

Her number for membership of the Daughters of 1812 is 8492. For the D.A.R. her number is 206, 124. She was a member of the American Legion Auxiliary in Minneapolis having been admitted on the service of her brother, Victor (6) Hood in World War I. She was a member of the Order of the Eastern Star, being admitted on the Masonic Eligibility of her brother Herman (6) Hood.

Other organizations for membership of Zoe Tunnicliff are Foreign Policy of St. Paul, Minn.; Detroit Society for Genealogical Research, Beverly, Mass.; Historical Society, Schenectady County Historical Society; Society for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities, New York Historial Association, Wisconsin Historical Society, League of Classroom Teachers of Albany. While teaching in Albany, she wrote a childrens' story "The Lazy Woodcutter" which was used in the Albany Public Schools upon the recommendation of Miss Ernst, the Supervisor.

Family Associations of which she was a member are Rice Kin, Gallup Family, Griswold Family and Whipple Family Groups.

A brief Biographical sketch of Zoe (6) Tunnicliff may be found in Compendium of American Genealogy, First Families of America, Vol. VII, p. 819, also given in Vo. VI, p. 582. Biographical sketches for Nelson (5) Tunnicliff may be found in the "National Cyclopedia for American Biography" Vol. 28, p. 123 and "Who's Who in the East" 1930, page 2003. He was an Attorney, being admitted to the Bar in seven States and to the United States Supreme Court for legal practice.

Minnesota Art Institutions attended by Zoe (Hood) Tunnicliff are University Minn. of Art and Architecture, Instructor, Samuel Chatwood Burton, Minnesota Art School, Instructor, Dewey Albinson, Carling Art Gallery, Instructor, Henry Carling. In the latter School, Mrs. Tunnicliff painted the portrait of the Spanish Goya which is now owned by the Hispanic Society of America with Gallery in N. Y. City.

While living in Paris, France, in 1928 Zoe Tunnicliff was also active in the Music Group at the oldest night club, Lapin Agile, and when called to assist in entertainment, gave a vocal solo, "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes" and was accompanied by Miss Johanna Bittman, a Music Teacher of Copenhagen, Denmark.

Mrs. Tunnicliff was a member of a French Language Society in San Mateo, California, when enrolled in the San Mateo Junior College. While living in New York City at 92 Morningside Ave., Mrs. Tunnicliff was a member of the American Society for Psychical Research. 1934-1935.

While living in Albany, N. Y., Mrs. Tunnicliff was a member of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, where her great, great Grandfather was Church Warden and Vestryman before 1793, Munsell's History of Albany. This was John (2) Tunnicliff Jr. who was born Nov. 16, 1750 in Derbyshire, England, and had his Jewelry Store and Residence at Nos. 14 and 16 State Street, a site now occupied by the Public Green or Plaza. He was a Soldier in the American Revolution and two State Markers are erected to his memory. One is in Albany and one at Warren, N. Y., where he lived after 1793 until his death, July 14, 1814.

Among old family relics owned by Mrs. Zoe Tunnicliff are the Burgoyne Camp Kettle which was purchased by John Tunnicliff, Jr., who was born Nov. 16, 1750, at a sale in Albany of the captured effects of General Burgoyne after the Battle of Saratoga; the Revolutionary musket carried by John Tunnicliff, Jr. in the Rev. War; office table formerly owned by Stephen G. Rathbun which was used in the Albany office of Aaron Burr when Rathbun was in Law Partnership with Burr. Stephen G. Rathbun was G. Uncle of Nelson H. Tunnicliff and was a lawyer in New York City for many years prior to his death about 1852.

A dining table was one of five tables together with a checker board, were paid in debt by Richard Cary to George Tunnicliff, grandfather of Nelson H. Tunnicliff when Col. Cary became heavily in debt and "put on the limits" as given, p. 162 of "History of Springfield" by Mrs. Kate M. Gray. The Checker Board is now owned by the Museum in Cooperstown and is said to have been with Cary at Valley Forge where Gen. Washington played chess on it. The Dining table was also associated with Gen. Washington and Mrs. Gray's book speaks, p. 162, as its serving at Otsego Lake. "When Washington visited Otsego Lake in 1783 he was a guest of Col. Cary and a magnificent ball was given in his honor. The place was called Rose Lawn at that time." The statement is made "In later years Col. Cary met with financial reverses and was 'put on the limits,' as the penalty of unpaid debts, being an exile from his home in Springfield and obliged to remain in the bounds of Cooperstown; the Herkimer relic, the Pistol Holsters of General Nicholas Herkimer were with the General when he was wounded at Oriskany Battlefield.

The General's sister, Gertrude Herkimer, married Rudolph Shoemaker and her daughter married Conrad Orendorf. Their son was Henry S. Orendorf, who married Mary (4) Tunnicliff, daughter of William Tunnicliff of Richfield (son of John Sr.) Their son was Delos Orendorf, who married Mary E. Tunnicliff, daughter of George (3) Tunnicliff who married Marinda Tilden. The Holsters came from Delos and his wife to George (4) Tunnicliff's hands right after 1900 when George's Aunt Mary died. George E. Tunnicliff was brother to Nelson H. Tunnicliff who inherited them from his brother; then they came to Zoe (Hood) Tunnicliff on the death of her husband.

From the Tunnicliff family came some historic china; Lowestoft, Royal Doulton, Shakespeare china, Chancellor Randolph Churchill china, Staffordshire, etc. From John Tunnicliff

Sr.'s home came some Moss Rose bushes, originally brought from England. Also from Oak Lodge came many garden stones from the stone wall at Oak Lodge. Other stones have been brought from Valley Forge, where Zoe Tunnicliff's gr. Grandfather, William Hood, fought during the Revolutionary War, from Andover, Mass. home of the Blount ancestors, from the Ballard Tavern at Andover and from the Gallup homestead at Mystic, Conn. Indian relics are from the Hood home in Wis.

NATHAN B. HOOD

An Historic picture of the Civil War was printed in LIFE Magazine dated July 5, 1963 on p. 14 under "Special Report," written by Robert Wallace and is entitled "Recharge at Gettysburg." The picture is of a group of Civil War Veterans, the last survivors of Pickett's Charge. The 4th man from the right, holding his hat over his eyes, is NATHAN B. HOOD, father of Zoe (Hood) Tunnicliff, wife of Nelson H. Tunnicliff.

> Military record of Nathan B. Hood.
> Enlisted in the 6th Wisconsin Battery Sept. 9, 1861 as a volunteer. Transferred to U. S. Signal Corps. Discharged August 10, 1864. Enlisted Co. E, 49th Regt. Wisconsin Vol. Feb. 12, 1865. Discharged as Sergt. Nov. 12, 1865.

The above mentioned picture was taken fifty years after the Battle of Gettysburg at a Soldiers' reunion and is now owned by the Smithsonian Institutuion, I have been informed by the Permissions Editor of LIFE MAGAZINE who kindly informed me of its whereabouts.

Another photograph taken on a different occasion was printed in TIME MAGAZINE, p. 5 in the issue of Aug. 17, 1962. The man directly beneath the man at the top holding the bugle is N. B. HOOD. This picture appeared in a TWA advertisement and is owned by Trans World Airlines. The date and place is not known to me but would seem to be some soldier's reunion according to the badges worn by the men.
